Academy to kick-off month-long training for Marketers

The Retail Academy is set to launch a month-long training program for Retail Marketers this February aimed at further developing their functional competencies. Academy Manager Jonathan Espino said the Retail Marketer Development Training Course will be conducted through combined approach of classroom and hands-on activities. Skill-building modules have been developed with the help of subject matter experts who would also serve as resource persons during the training. "This is part of our continuing program to promote excellence within our organization so we could deliver the high expectations of our customers," Espino averred

30% of PTT Ph employees receive booster shots

After achieving 100% vaccination rate, PTT Philippines employees have started getting their booster shots to ensure their protection from various variants of COVID 19 virus. Company Nurse Jacqueline Elane reported that based on the latest count, 30% of PTT Philippines employees have already received their booster shots especially after an outbreak of the Omicron variant in January. Corporate Support Director Paul Senador, meanwhile, said more employees are to follow suit. "Based on our continuous monitoring, more employees are scheduled to receive their booster shots this February and hopefully, we would again achieve 100 percent rate in no time at all," he added.

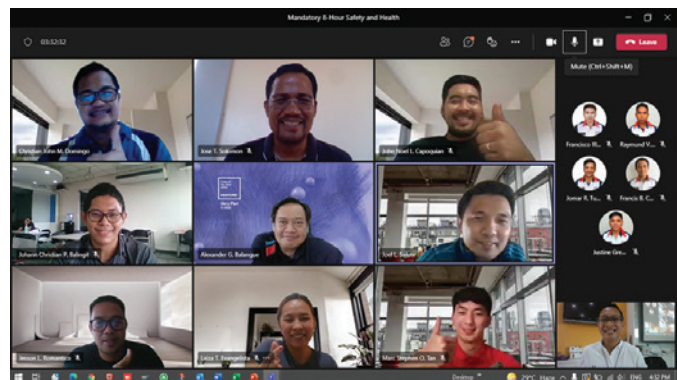

New employee orientation to resume this Feb

With the entry of fresh faces in the organization, the New Employee Orientation will continue this February to apprise new members of the PTT Philippines Family on the intricacies of business operations. With Retail Academy at the helm, new employees will be guided through a comprehensive discussion on the operations of PTT Philippines. Department heads and their representatives will discuss their respective functions for the new entrants' appreciation of the company's operations. "It is important that they understand the company, the brand, its products and services, among others before they dispense their duties in the organization," Academy Manager Jonathan Espino said. "Without understanding the organization, it would be hard for them to function and perform their duties well."

Another online MESH session set

Joint teams of QSHE and Academy will conduct another online session on the Mandatory Eight (8)-Hour Safety & Health Seminar (MESH) on February 15, 2022. The compulsory training as mandated by the Department of Labor and Employment, through its attached agency Occupational Safety & Health Center, requires employees in all industries to undergo MESH to ensure safety of employees at workplace. Employees interested at joining the training are advised to coordinate with the Academy or directly with the QSHE team of Christian John Domingo and Reymond Dimitui.

PTT Abucay opened
